Second Higher Education: Do I need it?

First of all, I would like to remember that a huge number of disputes and rumors have emerged so long ago that the Ministry of Education will simply take the opportunity to receive the second higher education in students, and the well-known Bologna system will only contribute to this. However, despite all these speculations, this type of education remains in demand and relevant.

The most amazing thing is that the proposed learning system has a lot of advantages, and among the shortcomings, only an additional financial consumption can be distinguished. Remembering your student life, I strongly regret that I did not continue my studies at one time, because it is a unique chance to get out of the university to become not only a qualified, but also a comprehensive specialist. Accordingly, the demand for such a graduate on the labor exchange is rapidly increasing.

And, nevertheless, as statistics show, many graduates are in no hurry to receive higher education again, dreaming at least a little to relax from textbooks and endless exams. Not many, after a couple of years, thoughts come about the resumption of the educational process, but sometimes the work obliges, and unrealized desires also remind themselves about themselves mild nostalgia. So re-students become people at the age of 28 - 40 years, which come to this solution quite consciously.

Positive aspects of the second higher education

When I was still a student, I considered the highest formation of an excessive pathos into the portfolio, but a few years later appreciated his necessity. That's just about this and I want to tell someone my enormous experience will come in handy.

1. Obtaining the second higher education takes no five years of life, but a maximum of 3.5 years, and this time is not at all necessary to spend daily at the desk, it is enough to simply be during the regular session. However, in this case, of course, it will have to personally agree with the teachers, explaining all its need and employment at the main work.
2. The second higher education allows you to become a multidisciplinary specialist, the main thing is to determine correctly with the choice, and not to become in your life just "polyglot".
3. Workers with two "tower" always in price, respectively, according to an increased rate and their wages are also calculated. In addition, the head of a company is unlikely to "scatter" such valuable employees. So you can not worry about unemployment, and the income will be above average.
4. Obtaining a second higher education provides a rapid career growth or promotion on the so-called "trade union staircase". Simply put, such qualified specialists are rarely "in the shade".

5. In any case, raising the qualifications in life will certainly not hurt, besides, it will noticeably increase self-esteem, he will teach sociability and demonstrates comprehensive development now former graduate.

As for the shortcomings of such a form of training, there are only two of them. First, the second higher education is a former student can get exclusively on a paid basis, that is, the state, alas, does not finance such good intentions. Secondly, for renewed studies, you will have to find a window in your dense routine of the day, which is very difficult to make busy and personally. However, if desired, such "but" can always be resolved, because, as you know, "the goal justifies the funds."

Properly made choice

If still the desire to get the second higher education is final and irrevocable, then it is important to be able to make the right choice.

When a tanker, for example, dreams of becoming a free artist, you can safely declare that his life went in vain. The fact is that it is necessary to develop its main specialty, rather than "down" it, since such experiments in their career with success, wept and universal recognition will definitely not end. Well, the engineer cannot become a teacher of Russian literature, but an athlete - a medical worker, and such non-combinations simply lose the importance of the first higher education.

So, if the first education was engineering and physical, then the second can become economic. If the graduate is by the profession of a biologist, then nothing will prevent him from improving his knowledge and go to environmentalists. But a qualified physician will certainly not hurt a second diploma of higher education with a note "psychologist".

As for the lawyers, they will not be difficult for them to be retracted in economists, and philologists - in journalists. Mathematics, for example, can master the specialty of the financier, and the teacher is translator.

So now everyone becomes clear which criteria should be assessed by the choice of specialty to obtain a second higher education. It is important not to realize your children's unfulfilled dreams, but to be approved and noticeably expanding your horizons in the already developed field of work.
